ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE FROM LUDLOW STREET JAIL.

Plaborate Preparations that are Conjectured to have been Winked At by Some of the Warden's Subordinates. The Convicts Hur-ried Off to the Albany Penitentlary. Until the morning of the 2d ult. the six cells in the first corridor of Ludlow street jail were regarded as the safest. Prisoners of importance—that is, prisoners awaiting trial or entence at the bar of the United States Circuit Court for offences against the laws of the United States-were confined there. The first corridor is in the second story of the jail, the kitchen. store rooms, and other offices being beneath. Opposite every cell in the corridor is a barred filled with butter. Warden Fitzsimmons determined to get rid of

to the ears on their way to the penitentiary without delay.

"There are two points about the attempt of Williams and his gang—for we believe that all were in the plot—to escape," said an official of the jail, 'that we don't understand. It is strange, if the keeper in charge of the wicket at the entrance to the first corridor kept his eyes open, that Williams or one of his men should have a change to saw the bar in the window.
Again, it is still more becultar that Williams's cell door should have been open. Even if some of his friends took an impression of the lock and made a key for him, it would have been of no use to him, for, you see, the lock is on the outside of the door, and no man could put his hands between the bars in the upper part of the door and reach the lock. There is no doubt that Williams's door was opened from the outside. It is impossible to say whether it was opened by some one connected with the jail, or by one of the civil prisoners, who might have been bribed to use a false key. The 1st of January, you know is near, and most of the empioyees of the jail expect to step down and out on that day."

**A PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED.

A PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED. Many Passengers Locked in a Burning Car and One Burned to Beath.

St. Louis, Dec. 26.—The passenger train bot the Chicago and Aiton Railroad which left here last night for Kansas City ran off the track between Kane and Berlan stations, sevenly miles north of this city. J. C. McMullen, general manager of the road, says that the train was running at the rate of about thirty miles an hour; that after the engine and air the cars, except the sleeper, which was the last one on the train, had based over safely, a steel rail, rendered brittle by the cold, snapped, and threw the sleeper from the track. This diched ail the other cars, the engine alone remaining on the track. The porter of the sleeper, George Paine of Chicago, and Gel. Bond of Amourn, Ill, were killed. The brakeman, sleeping car conductor, and a number of passengers were burned, and the whole train was badly wrecked. The injured passengers were taken to Jacksonville and blaced in the hospital there and are being well bared for. The track is clear.

From other sources it is ascertained that the accion of coursed at 1955 P. M. The train consisted of a baggare, smoking, chair car, and simper. There was only one passenger in the sleeper. The chair car was well filled, and there is where the injury was done. As soon as the car ran off the stoves upset, and that end of the car was aimost instantly in a blaze. The passengers, many of whom were injured, rushed to the other end of the car to escape but finding the door locked, a panic selzed them, and for a faw moments the scene was a torrible one. Finally the door Mas burged with the car. The names of the here last night for Kansas City ran off the track

THE GAS COMPANIES.

Their Representatives Say that they do not vet Fear Electric Light Competition. Chief Engineer C. V. Smith of the Man hattan Gas Light Company said yesterday: "Sc far as I know, there is nothing in the recent developments regarding the electric light to cause the holders of gas stocks to lie awake nights. I am not speaking of the promises and alleged prospects of the electric light, but of what has actually been accomplished. It has yet to be shown how the electric light can be cheaply made, what sort of lamp is to be used, elements in the six of the third was concerned as the six of the strick and how the electricity is to be supplied. It appears that much remains to be done before the lamp is perfected for practical use; and when they get the lamp done, there is the problem of distribution. The few points where electric Services in Dr. John Hall's Church, an Burlal in Greenwood Cemetery.

Hall's Church yesterday, was very plain. There fastastic flowers, nor any of the elaborate music that usually attracts multitudes to the funerals of the wealthy. This was in obedience to the frequently-expressed wish of Mr. Stuart. The only blood relative at the funeral was the dead millionaire's brother. R. L. Stuart. The religious services were attended by many influential men, whose many coaches blocked the streets—among them Peter Cooper, Robert Bonner, William Libboy, John A. Stewart, H. M. Alexander, Dr. Agnew, Goorge Jones, H. G. De Forest, M. K. Jesup, Dr. S. I. Prime, Dr. Mc. Cosh, Dr. Medilli, Dr. Paston, Abram S. Hewit, and D. O. Mills. Mr. R. L. Stuart sat with his wife in a front pew near the cofflu.

The body was enclosed in a stout oak casket, covered with black cloth. The plate bore the words: "Alexander Stuart. Born Dec. 22, 1810. Died Dec. 23, 1879."

The hymns that were sung were Alexander Stuart's favorites, "Asicep in Jesus," and "I would not live alway."

The Rev. Dr. John Hall said he was practically prohibited, by the often expressed wishes of Mr. Stuart, from any culogy. It pleased God to give Mr. Stuart great prosperity, but no man could say that the fruits of that prosperity had not been used for the best interests of man and the glory of God. One lesson of his life is a lesson to parents, who should see that their children are brought up in the lear of God. Dr. Hall further said:

"There is one fact on which it is permitted to me to dwell, and I would dwell upon it with earnessness before so many business men and employers who can appreciate the place of the brother who has been taken away. He was a man of great kindliness, and manifested a sense of justice to those in his service. He did not feed that all obligations to them were terminated when he had paid their stipulated wayes. He maintained the kindest relations with them. If there is one thing that threatens disturbance it is the unsettled and incompatible relations that appear in so many instances between the wealthy employer and the poorer who are employed." fastastic flowers, nor any of the elaborate music that usually attracts multitudes to the funerals ployed." At the close of the address Dr. Hall said that the congregation would be dismissed, and that soon thereafter the remains would be taken to the grave by a few immediate friends. The body was taken to the family vault in Greenwood Cemetery.

Horses with No Record.

Mr. John T. Barrettof Dover Plains presented a letter of introduction to Mayor Cooper and complained that John Whalen of 222 East Twelfith street had awinded inn. Mr. Barrett had read an advertisement to the effect that a harrain in howeffesh could be not by the large at 222 East Twelfith street. He called and pair $25 to account, and of course the horse proved unsuged. When a count is the large at 222 East Twelfith street. He called and he could not have it. Such was Mr. Barrett's complaint to the Mayor. The Mayor's pixale secretary sent for Capt. Waish and this is mit to the surface of the called and the sum of the large three secretary sent for Capt. Waish and this is a John Whalen was locked in prison. He was out of this cell yesterday, and Connecter Frice and of Alph. Weish. Mr. Barrett had come from to Bover Fisher, and, as there was no complainant, Justice Unstructure releases.

ALARM IN WESTCHESTER

Cattle Infected, and the Appropriation for Paying Owners Exhausted. Pleuro-pneumonia is spreading among the attle in and near Yonkers. Veterinary Surgeon Wray of the State Commission discovered two new cases of the disease on the farm of Stephen Barker in Tuckahoe yesterday. The temperature of both animals and their physical condition indicated that they had been suffer-ing from the malady for some time. Mr. Wray says that an animal may be infected for months before the disease becomes visible. Nothing but the most careful examination will detect it in its the most careful examination will detect it in its primary stages.

On Christmas day Mr. Wray was told that John Dalton, whose farm has been quarantined, had threatened to turn a disensed cow loses in the road, because the money for reimbursing owners for diseased cattle killed is exhausted. Mr. Wray decided to take the responsibility. Accordingly he drove the animal out of town and killed it. The examination that followed showed that one of the lungs had solidified and that in the other were several large cists. A false membrane had formed over all. all.

Since the 1st of October last twenty-six cases of pieuro-pneumonia have been discovered in and near Yonkers. Of these, nineteen have been killed. Mr. H. B. Odell has two infected animals on his farm. Wm. Pierpont, a butcher, has three infected animals.

The owners of cattle all over Westchester County are much troubled by the spread of the disease. Many are having their cattle inspected with a view of weeding out and killing the sick animals.

We sell everything on a very narrow margin of profit. When we find we cannot sell a particular article readily at a profit, we sell it for what it will bring. In large stocks like ours there are always bargains to be had in excellent goods that for some reason do not sell quickly, and so get marked down. When our prices seem to be no lower than others', compare the goods for quality. We are not often beaten.

We have plenty of plain and substantial goods, but do not mean to have any disappointing goods.
